Biography

A compassionate and focused trial expert, Daun started her career at Lewis Wagner more than 30 years ago. In her early years with the firm, she represented clients in personal injury cases. Through that experience, she discovered her true passion for practicing law was in connecting with people, being an advocate, and helping guide them through what might otherwise being an overwhelming and frightening prospect.

Following the natural progression of assisting personal injury clients, Daun transitioned to family law, where she handles both amiable and contentious family law matters.

A native of the Indianapolis area, she and her husband have raised two daughters who have become successful in their own right. She enjoys spending time with her family and friends, and especially her beloved grandchildren.
