Biography

Stacey is an Associate in Lewis Wagner & Trimble's litigation group, focusing her practice on civil defense litigation. She defends both individuals and businesses in lawsuits involving premises liability, product liability, construction accident and defect cases, liquor liability, and various insurance defense matters. In the past, Stacey has obtained summary judgment for her clients in numerous cases and has successfully defended her clients at trial in several small claims matters. She has also written an appellate brief to the Indiana Court of Appeals and assisted on several interlocutory appeals. She is admitted to practice in Indiana and Pennsylvania, as well as the United States District Courts for the Northern and Southern Districts of Indiana. In addition to being a member of DTCL, Stacey is a member of the Indianapolis Bar Association and the Indiana State Bar Association.

Stacey received her J.D. from the Villanova University School of Law, where she graduated cum laude. While in law school, Stacey served as Articles Editor for the Villanova Law Review and Treasurer of the Villanova chapter of the Federal Bar Association. Stacey also assisted low-income taxpayers in the Philadelphia area through Villanova's Federal Tax Clinic. Immediately following law school, Stacey clerked for Judge Abigail M. LeGrow in the Delaware Superior Court's Complex Commercial Litigation Division. In her free time, Stacey enjoys reading, doing yoga, and spending time with her very talkative cat, Cassie.
